79 PROMINENT RUSSIANS FACE SOVIET'S IRE

Stripped Of Decorations By Decree And Believed Under Arrest

LIST IS PUBLISHED

Group Accused Of 'Actions Unworthy Of Order-Bearers'

MOSCOW, July 27.—(AP)—Seventy-nine prominent Russians, including several high Soviet army officers, were stripped of their decorations by a decree published today.

They include [illegible] Tairoff, former Soviet minister to the Mongolian People's republic; Division Commander Sergeeff; Air Force Commander Lapin, formerly Marshal Vassily Bluecher's assistant in the far east, and Shecherkov, chief of the political administration in the [illegible] military district.

All were listed as guilty of "actions unworthy of order-bearers" [illegible].

Naval Engineer [illegible], former Soviet naval attache in Washington; Rappaport, the former political commissar of the Frunze Naval academy; former Vice Commissar of Foreign Trade Sudvinsky; [illegible] Commander Baltis, and a [illegible] Communist Youth leader [illegible] named Ovsyannikoff.

Publication of [illegible] in the Soviet [illegible] tantamount to [illegible] have been arrested.

THREE TRAPPED FOR 50 MINUTES IN DIVING BELL

2,000 Gallons Pumped From Tank To Permit Escape

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—(AP)—Three men were trapped for 50 minutes beneath the surface in a diving bell at a Golden Gate exposition concession early today, before climbing out the escape hatch after 2,000 gallons had been pumped from the 25-foot tank.

The three were Louis Gilpin, 22, operator of the concession, and his two customers, Edgar B. Simmons, 22, and William R. Arthur, both of Walnut Creek, Calif.

Gilpin submerged in the bell with Simmons and Arthur, controlling movement of the steel cylinder from the inside. On the ascent the power cut off, plunging the bell into darkness and halting it three feet below the surface.

A few spectators who had noticed the bell's descent became alarmed as the minutes passed. Hundreds gathered at the little concession, and after the bell had been submerged a half hour the Treasure island fire department arrived with pumping equipment.

The amusement zone was flooded with water pumped from the tank. As the water line lowered below the hatch, the men emerged thankfully.

They said their only ill effects had been a smarting of the eyes. Two air hoses maintained a normal circulation in the bell, which has room for about eight persons.

Pale and nervous, Gilpin said he at first thought the power failure was "a childish prank on someone's part in pulling a power switch in back of the concession."

"But after a while the power still was off and I had no way of letting anyone know."

He said they smoked cigarettes for a time, but then made every effort to conserve the air should the circulation fail.

'DIXIE' DAVIS TO BE FREED TONIGHT

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—Shielded by four detectives, J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, 34, former "kid mouthpiece" of the $20,000,000-a-year Dutch Schultz policy racket, will be freed from the Bronx jail shortly after midnight tonight—quits at last in his long conflict with the law.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey ordered elaborate precautions to safeguard Davis from possible gangland vengeance as he steps into a new life of fear-shadowed freedom.

Prison officials said he would be taken to a secret destination, swiftly departing the Manhattan backdrop where his career ran the gamut from a struggling young law clerk to flashy heir apparent of one of the nation's biggest crime syndicates.

"We're not exactly worried about any gang bullets, but we are taking no chances," an official said. "Unless he himself reveals it or he is discovered by chance, nobody will ever know where Dixie Davis has gone."

He will have to return to the city temporarily on Monday, however, to answer a federal grand jury subpoena. Authorities said the jury wished to question him in a matter growing out of the case against former United States Circuit Court Judge Martin T. Manton, recently convicted of obstructing justice by accepting "loans" from litigants.

VELMA WEST RECAPTURED AT DALLAS

Velma West, 32, who escaped from the reformatory for women at Marysville, O., to have one last adventure, here is shown in jail at Dallas, Tex., where she was recaptured by detectives after 36 hours at large. She is under a life sentence for the hammer slaying of her husband. Captured with her in Dallas was Mary Ellen Richards, 23, one of three others who escaped with her.

CONGRESSMEN YEARNING FOR HOME STATES

Air Conditioning Fails To Make Them Want To Stay In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—Atmospherically, congress is showing great love for the old home state in wanting to adjourn and leave Washington.

Heat waves may blister the nation . . . droughts may come and go . . . city dwellers may flock to beaches, lakes and mountains . . . yet the thermometer in the cool halls of congress reads a constant 75 degrees.

In what states can the lawmakers find a condition like that? The weather bureau says 22 states have a "normal" August temperature of 75 or below.

However—

All these have maximums that would nearly melt the marble statues in the capitol, now swept by the cool man-made breezes of air conditioning.

"I long for a little Louisiana summer," joined Representative Mouton, Democrat, Louisiana, with state pride.

Charts show that the normal August temperature back in his state is 81.8 degrees, but the mercury there has also soared to 112. That's 37 degrees higher than the air-cooled house.

"It makes no difference," Mouton explained. "It's a different kind of heat."

Representative Karl Stefan, Republican, Nebraska, wiped his wet forehead as he walked from his office to work and wailed:

"Give me Nebraska to this."

Nebraska has an August "normal" of 72.9, but also a maximum of 115.

The mercury has climbed to 113 in Iowa, but Representative Harrington, Democrat, Iowa, said he'd gladly take a chance at home.

"After all," he said, "I can't sleep in my office. That's when it bothers me most."

SWEENEY DEMANDS SPECIAL SESSION

LAKE CHARLES, La., July 27.—(AP)—A demand that Governor Long issue an immediate call for a special session of the state legislature was made today by State Senator Sidney W. Sweeney of Lake Charles.

In a telegram to the governor, Senator Sweeney declared that Long would be "shirking his duty to a people you dare to ask to have confidence in you" if he failed to convene the legislature immediately.

Laying particular stress on the need for "urgent legislative attention" in the conservation department, Senator Sweeney urged that the department be "strengthened" and special care and attention be given the general set-up, reach and operation of the mineral division.

SCOTLAND YARD PUSHES SEARCH FOR TERRORISTS

Spurred By Angry British Public Following Five Bombings

LONDON, July 27.—(AP)—Spurred by an angry British public, Scotland Yard directed a vast hunt today for terrorists who shed blood and destroyed property in a series of five bombings at the same time the house of commons adopted drastic measures to combat the Irish Republican army.

Authorities said the explosions were in line with an I. R. A. "plan" which Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare described to the house of commons Monday as calling for wrecking of key industries, blasting of parliament buildings and pollution of water supplies.

Police guards kept a close watch on railway and subway stations, on postoffices and other vulnerable points. Persons leaving packages in checkrooms were asked to submit them to inspection.

Five men were seized for questioning in London and one in Liverpool, but authorities said none was being detained on specific charges.

The most serious bombing yesterday was at busy Kings Cross station, where Donald Campbell, Edinburgh university lecturer on his way home from a Paris honeymoon with his bride of a few months, lost his life. Mrs. Campbell was injured seriously. In all, fifteen were injured there and five at Victoria station in a later explosion. Both explosions occurred in cloakrooms where parcels were checked.

At Victoria, crowds raised an angry shout of "down with the Irish—shoot them." They swarmed about a man who declared the Irish might be right.

QUICK RULING URGED ON MEDIC DECISION

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—The supreme court will be asked to decide whether the practice of medicine comes within the scope of the anti-trust laws.

The justice department said last night every effort would be used "to get a final decision from the supreme court at the earliest possible moment" on the dismissal by a federal district judge of an indictment against the American Medical association and others. Judge James M. Proctor had ruled that the practice of medicine is not a trade and therefore not within the scope of the anti-trust laws.

The defendants, he said, could not be guilty of restraint of trade in their alleged activities against Group Health association, Inc., a cooperative established to provide medical care on a prepaid basis to government employes in the District of Columbia.

The justice department said it was issuing its statement, not to criticize the opinion, but "to inform physicians generally that until the supreme court has acted, the government's prosecution policy toward boycotts in the medical profession is unchanged."

Treasury Studying Means Of Backing Up Hull's Declaration

SURPRISE TO TOKYO

Nipponese Look Upon America's Sudden Move As Unfriendly Act

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today the treasury was studying means of backing up Secretary Hull's termination of the Japanese commercial treaty by action involving United States purchases of Japanese gold, silver and merchandise.

Morgenthau explained that the announcement of abrogation came before he had time to decide his course of action, but "since reporters are asking me about it, of course I will look into it."

He gave no hint of what kind of action could be taken.

However, it is known that for one thing, the treasury is studying alleged Japanese subsidies of cotton cloth exports to the United States with a view to imposing penalty tariff duties against the cloth.

HIGHLIGHTS GIVEN IN TREATY OF 1911

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—Here are the highlights of the 1911 treaty of commerce and navigation with Japan, which the United States is terminating:

1. Citizens of each nation shall have liberty to travel, reside and conduct business in the other, without paying higher taxes than do natives. They shall be exempt from compulsory military service and shall receive "the most constant protection and security."

2. Dwellings, warehouses and shops of citizens of each nation shall be respected in the other's territory, and shall be searched only under lawful conditions.

3. Each nation may appoint consuls and deputies in all cities of the other.

4. Reciprocal freedom of commerce and navigation shall exist, with access to all places, ports and rivers which

VELMA WEST TO GET 'SOLITARY'

Must Spend Four Weeks Alone In Cell After Return To Ohio

MARYSVILLE, O., July 27.—(AP)—Velma West is "going out of circulation," Superintendent Marguerite Reilley of the women's reformatory said today.

With two officers en route to Dallas, Tex., to return the flapper era husband-slayer and Mary Ellen Richards, Mrs. Reilley was preparing for what she called the "homecoming."

"Velma better get her publicity now because when she gets back it'll all be over," the superintendent said decisively. "She's going out of circulation."

Mrs. Reilley decreed:

The first week in a dark solitary cell on bread and water.

Three more weeks in a lighted solitary cell. Still bread and water.

"And then off to some assignment where she won't be heard of," she summed up. "There'll be no inhumanity, of course."

TWO WOMEN PROFESS REMORSE OVER ESCAPE

DALLAS, July 27.—(AP)—Professing remorse their escape brought punishment to other inmates, husband-slaying Velma West and Mary Ellen Richards described their flight and awaited officers to return them to the Marysville, O., women's reformatory.

They were captured Tuesday night and have waived extradition.

Mary Ellen, 23-year-old convicted hijacker, said she told Mrs. Marguerite Reilley, reformatory superintendent, in May she was going to escape

CITIZENS ARRIVE IN ALEXANDRIA

ALEXANDRIA, La., July 27.—(AP)—Citizens from throughout the state began arriving here this morning for a meeting sponsored by the Citizens' Volunteer committee to suggest an attorney to aid in the state's investigation of the political scandal growing out of irregularities at Louisiana State university.

Names of three attorneys will be submitted to Governor Earl K. Long with the request that one of them be named as a special prosecutor in the investigation. The meeting will get under way at 1 p.m.

W. H. Hodges of Elm Grove was one of the first arrivals.

LENDING BILL MODIFIED BY SENATE HEADS

Barkley Moves To Eliminate Necessity Of Levying Tolls

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chief, charged today that Vice-President Garner, whom he termed a "poker playing, whiskey drinking, evil old man," was responsible for recent attacks on labor in congress.

Lewis accused the vice-president of responsibility for recent attempts to modify labor legislation and declared he would oppose Garner "when he seeks the presidency in 1940."

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—The senate leadership modified the $2,490,000,000 lending bill today in an effort to obtain prompt passage, while house Democrats scheduled a clear-cut test of sentiment on the measure at a caucus tomorrow night.

The senate move was initiated by Democratic Leader Barkley, who offered an amendment to eliminate the necessity for levying tolls on a projected $500,000,000 road building program.

Barkley said his amendment would leave it up to individual states and communities whether tolls should be levied. He added that it would permit states and localities to take over construction, maintenance and repair of highways and to pay for them in whatever way they could find, provided it would be acceptable to the public roads bureau.

There was a belief in administration quarters that Barkley's amendment would eliminate much senate opposition to the bill.

In the house, however, the legislation was creating a major fight among Democrats which probably will be settled at the party caucus. The meeting, called by a petition by 51 members, will decide party policy on the lending bill.

A group of anti-administration Democrats, including many from the south, was talking of boycotting the meeting so that a majority would not be present to transact business.

Additional trouble was being stirred up for administration leaders in the house banking committee, where one Democratic member asserted he had "solemnly shaken hands" with three

MAN AND BOY FOUND BUT ANOTHER LOST

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 27.—(AP)—A boy and a man, lost in the northwest woods, were safe today but hardly had their fate been solved when new reports of a third missing person were made to police.

Rescued from the depths of the Paul Bunyan forest, 175 miles northwest of here, at nightfall Wednesday was six-year-old Russell Jensen, of Albert Lea, Minn., who had been missing since Monday morning.

Shortly afterward, from isolated Lake Manitou, 50 miles north of International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, came word of a successful hunt for Frank C. Lambert, 53, chief of the Chicago sanitary district.

Lost, however, was Stanley Booth, pioneer resident of Hibbing, Minn. An all-day search Wednesday in the Togo Bear river area, about 200 miles north of here, failed to unearth any trace of Booth, who had not been heard from since Monday noon, when he set out to examine wolf snares he had placed in the woods. His wife notified authorities and a CCC contingent was organized today to search for him.

LOST EIGHT DAYS, BOY FINDS HIMSELF

Lost eight days in the tangled wilderness of northern Maine, Donn Fendler, 12-year-old Boy Scout of Rye, N. Y., finally wandered out of the woods to the home of Nelson E. McMoarn of Sherman, Me., a guide. The emaciated lad had lived on berries during the time he was lost. Donn's first thought was of his parents and here he is shown phoning his mother. "I'm all right," he told her. Supporting him in this picture is Mrs. McMoarn, who gave him hot coffee and soup and put him to bed.

World Alliance Criticizes Situation In Russia And Rumania

ATLANTA, July 27.—(AP)—A resolution asserting "state churches and church-states are alike in direct conflict with the principle of (religious) freedom" was presented today to the sixth congress of the Baptist World alliance.

Reasserting traditional Baptist opposition to connection between church and governmental agencies, the resolution insisted "worthy religion rests on the conviction that the individual soul is competent to deal directly with God * * *. Every form of coersive restraint or constraint of a man in his converse with God is both a sin against the individual and a hindrance to human welfare."

In separate resolutions, direct mention was made of religious restrictions in Russia and Rumania.

"The members of this congress," said the first of these, "deeply deplore the fact that the government of the U. S. S. R. has maintained through many years and still maintains an attitude and policy of hostility to religion.

"They earnestly desire friendship between the governments and peoples of the earth, and they would emphasize the fact that truly cordial and intimate relations are made impossible by existence of repression and persecution."

Recent action of Rumanian authorities in permitting reopening of Baptist churches brought expression of "satisfaction" in another resolution, but the paper added the congress was "nevertheless constrained to point out that the new administrative decree * * * appears unacceptable, inasmuch as the exercise of control by a government department of the internal affairs of churches is in itself a vio-

ACCUSED ATTACKER PLEADS INNOCENT

COVINGTON, Ind., July 27.—(AP)—Thomas Allen Boys, 27, of Attica, pleaded innocent yesterday of murder in perpetration of a felony and then listened without emotion to testimony on the rape slaying of 11-year-old Elizabeth DeBruicker, of which he is accused.

Boys was bound over to Fountain county's grand jury, to meet September 25, and was taken to Pendleton State reformatory for safe keeping.

Elizabeth, farm girl near Attica, vanished Friday on her way home from a 4-H club meeting. Her body was found the next day buried in a shallow grave.

District Attorney Advised Five Days Before Noe's Letter

In a statement signed by the three members of the board of commissioners of Louisiana Training institute, the board today revealed that District Attorney Frank W. Hawthorne was advised by letter dated July 20 that Dr. Harvey Dillon had been discharged as superintendent of the school and that records of the institute and all facts relating to the causes for dismissal of Dr. Dillon were offered the district attorney.

The statement was issued in connection with the proposed grand jury investigation of the institute. A special session of the grand jury was called yesterday by Judge David I. Garrett to convene next Monday. The session was called, it was said, following receipt of a letter, dated July 25, from Senator James A. Noe, charging irregularities at the institute.

The board of commissioners' statement also includes a letter from District Attorney Hawthorne, dated July 26, stating that "evidence in your letter should certainly be laid before the district attorney so that proper criminal prosecution may be instituted in the event there has been any violations of the criminal statutes of this state."

The board pointed out that information concerning Dr. Dillon's dismissal was offered five days before Senator

FLIERS TO APPEAR OVER MANY TOWNS

SHREVEPORT, La., July 27.—(AP)—Thirty-one cities and towns in Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi were added today by Barksdale Field authorities to five previously listed over which fighting squadrons will stage aerial demonstrations next Wednesday in commemoration of the thirtieth anniversary of the air corps.

An 18-plane squadron of attack planes will cover 20 cities on an anniversary flight over Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi, and an 18-plane pursuit squadron will cover 6 cities in Louisiana and Mississippi. Both flights will be nonstop, originating and terminating here, it is reported. A time schedule has not been completed, but both flights will start at 10 a.m. at a signal from President Roosevelt.

The schedule:

Attack squadron: Texarkana, Hope, Prescott, Gurdon, Arkadelphia, Hot Springs, Benton, Little Rock, Lonoke, Brinkley, Forest City, Ark.; Memphis, Tenn.; Helena, Ark.; Clarksdale, Yazoo City, Jackson, Vicksburg, Miss.; Tallulah, Arcadia, Minden and Shreveport.

Pursuit squadron: Alexandria, Natchitoches, La.; McComb, Miss.; Kentwood, Amite, Hamond, Ponchatoula, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lafayette, Crowley, Lake Charles, Ludington, Leesville, Many, Mansfield and Shreveport.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 27.—(AP)—Attorney General David M. Ellison today ruled both he and Smith Hoffpauir were serving "illegally" on the Louisiana State university board of supervisors. He advised the governor to appoint two new members.

NEW ORLEANS, July 27.—(AP)—Richard W. Leche, who resigned as governor of Louisiana a month ago yesterday, just as the present statewide scandals broke, today was summoned as a witness here by the federal grand jury investigating possible income tax evasions and infractions of the "hot oil" law.

Leche already had testified at length in three appearances before the East Baton Rouge parish grand jury, which is investigating ramifications of the Louisiana State university affairs.

Leche, limping heavily on a cane, came to the federal building here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning, and went into conference with District Attorney Rene A. Viosca, who broke the rule of secrecy surrounding names of witnesses called by the grand jury, and permitted use of Leche's name on instructions from Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah.

Leche was not in his usual jovial mood. He wore a serious expression

PLANS MOVE TO DEPOLITICALIZE L. S. U. PUPILS

President Of Student Body Says This Action Will Be Taken

BATON ROUGE, La., July 27.—(AP)—Bob Chinn, president of the Louisiana State university student body, said he intended when the session opened in September to urge the students to join the school's alumni in their drive to depoliticalize the university.

"If the depoliticalization of the university board of supervisors is the necessary step," he wrote the editor of the Reveille, student newspaper at L. S. U., "—though I would not fall over backwards there and actually complete separation from the state government—then you may be well assured that I—and the student council which I head—are ready and willing to take part in such a movement."

The tactics of student politicians in campus politics was one of the things attacked by Alumni Federation President Tom Dutton. He said the students were "aping" state politicians and were learning to "disregard honesty and fair play in their elections."

Chinn, now vacationing in South Carolina, was chosen president this spring in a lively campaign in which loudspeaker trucks were used for advertising the candidates and airplanes distributed posters bearing their platforms. Last year he was vice-president under Russell Long, son of the late Huey P. Long, who was elected president in a similar campaign in 1938.

To the editor of the Reveille, which has published accounts of the university scandal and the alumni stand, Chinn wrote:

"I am glad to see you taking this stand for, to me, as I am sure it is to you, L. S. U. is far more than a "Cajan Country club" and all the other unjust things that have been uttered about her."

Chinn is from New Orleans.

TOT CHINESE DIED FOR COMING HOME

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 27.—(Canadian Press)—Five-year-old Helen Priscilla Stam, for whom a friendly Chinese gave up his life to Chinese bandits so that she might live, is getting her first glimpse of the American continent.

Known throughout the world as the "miracle baby," Helen was met upon her arrival from the orient aboard the Empress of China Tuesday by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Scott, of Princeton, N. J. Today she was en route east to her new home.

Chinese bandits looting Tsingteh, China, in December, 1934, murdered the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stam, American missionaries of Paterson, N. J., and Holycke, Mass. The Chinese offered his life to the bandits if they would spare the baby, the grandparents said. The bandits accepted the offer.

The baby later was found in a deserted house. Chinese missionaries cared for her until she was brought to a hospital at Wuhu mission headquarters.

Board of Commissioners
Louisiana Training Institute
Monroe, Louisiana
Gentlemen:

"I have your letter dated July 26th, 1939, in which you state that the Board of Commissioners of the Louisiana Training Institute has seen fit to discharge Dr. Harvey Dillon as Superintendent and in which letter you further state that the records of the Institute as well as all the facts relative to the causes for dismissal of Dr. Dillon are available to this office at any time.

If the causes of the dismissal of Dr. Dillon are due to certain criminal acts on his part and if this is what you intend to imply by your letter, then all evidence in your possession should certainly be laid before the District Attorney so that proper criminal prosecution may be instituted in the event there has been any violations of the criminal statutes of this state.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY KILLING EXPLAINED

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—Gangland reprisals against three witnesses used by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey in his crusade against New York racketdom were disclosed today as new light was shed on the "mistaken identity" murder of Isadore Penn, 42, a Bronx family man.

District Attorney Samuel Foley of Bronx county said the man actually marked for death in the slaying of Penn was Philip Orlofsky or Orlansky, a man of similar physique and appearance, who lived in the same apartment building where Penn resided. He now is guarded day and night by heavily-armed officers.

The Bronx official said Orlofsky was a witness in Dewey's prosecution of the notorious Lepke-Gurrah fur racket case, and that two other Dewey witnesses had previously been shot in the Bronx.

and said his arthritis troubled him. He had motored in from his country home at nearby Covington.

Viosca only once before had broken the secrecy rule to permit use of the name of William G. Rankin, former conservation commissioner, called as a witness here Tuesday and recalled yesterday for prolonged questioning.

Leche's summons followed return here of O. John Rogge, assistant attorney general, from Washington with a "go ahead" order from Attorney General Murphy to get to the bottom of all federal law violations in the state. Rogge last night said perjury, jury tampering, intimidation of witnesses and possible infractions of the banking act all were matters which would receive federal scrutiny by the jury, which has been in session a month.

Federal officials also announced that Dr. J. A. Shaw, director of the minerals division of the conservation department, together with certain records of that department were subpoenaed yesterday by the jury. Shaw was questioned at some length.

His position makes him the actual czar of Louisiana's $100,000,000 oil industry, since he is in charge of proration regulation and issuance of drilling permits.

Governor Earl K. Long ousted Dr. Shaw two weeks ago, but this week reinstated him, saying he had made a mistake in his original order. Shaw meanwhile had not given up his post. Long removed Rankin at the same time he restrained Shaw.

Another crack justice department official joined Rogge's growing staff of prosecutors here today. He was Alfred B. Teton, special attorney assigned to the criminal division of the department, here for an indefinite stay at Rogge's request.

'SECOND LOUISIANA PURCHASE' NOT PROBED

NEW ORLEANS, July 27 (AP).—O. John Rogge, federal attorney here to direct the government's widening scrutiny of Louisiana political affairs, said he had no plans to investigate the so-called "second Louisiana purchase" of 1936.

He referred to the accord reached between the Roosevelt and Louisiana administrations after the death of Huey P. Long and the dropping of income tax fraud cases against several of Long's associates.

"There was not any second Louisiana purchase as far as I know," said Rogge, assistant United States attorney general in charge of the criminal division of the department of justice.

"We tried [illegible] strongest case, the Shushan case, [illegible] resulted in acquittal. [illegible] would be [illegible] the remaining cases. N[illegible] reopened [illegible] wanted to, the statutes already have run on them."

The Shushan referred to is Abe Shushan, New Orleans wholesaler and former head of the levee board. Shushan was tried after Long's death. Previously State Representative Joseph Fisher of Jefferson parish was tried, convicted and sent to the Atlanta penitentiary.

Among those whose cases were dropped was Seymour Weiss, hotel man and former treasurer of Long's political organization, who is now under indictment for mail fraud in the present inquiry. The charge is he and others sold Louisiana State university for $75,000 some hotel furnishings the school already owned.

Rogge added perjury, intimidation of witnesses, jury tampering and possible infractions of the national banking act to the long list of matters under investigation by 50 federal agents in the state.

"The grand jury," he said, "already has spent a month looking into charges of mail fraud, income tax violations, WPA diversions, salary deductions and other matters, and has returned seven indictments with indications of many more to come."

Also under study, both in north and south Louisiana, were charges of violations of the Connally "hot oil" act. The act prohibits production of oil in excess of quotas set by the states.

Meanwhile, Governor Earl K. Long, Huey's brother, said he would advocate in his campaign for the governorship in the January, 1940, primary that members of the legislature be paid salaries of $200 per month. Legislators are now paid $10 per day and traveling expenses while attending sessions. The legislature meets biennially for 60 days.

His announcement was made as State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell, also a candidate for governor, asked the governor to direct the state bank commissioner to make public the names and salaries of members of the legislature on the payroll of the state moratorium commission.

"For the past two years," Long said, "I have been advocating in my talks that senators and representatives should get flat salaries of $200 per month.

"I know and everybody knows that under the present setup a man had to be able to get some money somewhere to reimburse him for the expenses he is put to in representing the cause of the people."

State Senator Sidney W. Sweeney urged Governor Earl K. Long to call a special session of the legislature to enact safeguards against recurrence of the present political situation.

"Should you fail to call this special session of the legislature," he said, "you will be shirking your duty to a people you dare to ask to have confidence in you."

Among his recommendations were: "The sales tax needs to be repealed.

"Foolproof safeguards against graft and corruption should be enacted.

"Legislation is badly needed covering all phases of the mineral resources of the state.

"I * * * urge * * * correcting all practical legal and political questions now arising because of the presence of elected public officials on the board of supervisors of L. S. U.

"Legislation should be insisted upon with special reference to the public sources of income of members of the legislature.

"The board of liquidation, * * * as I understand it, has done more than the constitution of the state permits the legislature to do without the approval of the people of the state by vote, by borrowing and creating approximately 15 or more millions of dollars in debts during the recess period of the legislature under the present administration."

Ettelson said he believed that carp root like pigs and their work would not be strenuous.

NO TRACE FOUND OF 7 FUGITIVES

CULPEPER, Va., July 27.—(AP)—An all-night vigil and search over a wide area in this Blue Ridge mountain section failed to reveal any clues today as to the whereabouts of seven federal prisoners who beat their guards and escaped from a bus yesterday while being transferred from a south to a north prison.

State troopers, federal officers and volunteer possemen guarded highways throughout the night and the early morning hours without receiving any reports on the escapees. A heavy fog early this morning hampered work of searchers.

BALE MINIMUM SIGNED

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed today an amendment to the 1938 crop control law providing that the national cotton production goal shall not be less than 10,000,000 bales annually hereafter. Old provisions lifted a 10,000,000-bale minimum after this year.

LENDING BILL MODIFIED BY SENATE HEADS

other Democrats to tie up the lending bill in the committee until the senate has voted on it. The committee has been considering a companion measure.

This informant said that if a proposal to restore the prevailing wage scale for work relief projects was approved by the senate, the measure might be bottled up permanently in the committee.

The lending measure was regarded as the key to adjournment, but the administration's housing bill—doubling the $800,000,000 borrowing power of the United States housing authority—still was struck in the house rules committee.

The committee failed to give the measure right-of-way on the floor after a meeting yesterday. Representative Smith, Democrat, Virginia, proposed that the measure be passed along on condition that it would not be called up for action until congress meets in January.

There was substantial committee sentiment, however, that the measure could be sent to the floor and acted upon before adjournment.

A further complication in the legislative picture was the disagreement of a senate-house conference committee over social security legislation approved by the two chambers. Some members predicted no compromise could be reached at this session.

Yesterday's senate debate on the lending bill found a line of Republican members, aided by a few Democrats, hammering against its provisions after Democratic Leader Barkley had contended it would help reemployment.

Senator Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, calling the bill "another blank check" and a "spending scheme," declared administration leaders hesitated to put Jesse Jones, federal loan chief, in charge of the program lest he be too careful in lending the money.

Senator Taft, Republican, Ohio, said Jones had been "booted upstairs" from the RFC chairmanship. He argued that no government lending program ever would get back any large proportion of the money loaned, and added:

"The loans are dictated largely by non-business reasons, by political reasons, by humanitarian reasons, and it is beyond human nature to hope that government officials, particularly in a New Deal administration, will carefully guard the character of their loans."

Taft, like several other critics of the legislation, contended that it would open the way for greater government competition with business.

Senator Danaher, Republican, Connecticut, asserted the Roosevelt administration planned to use the lending program for political advantage before the 1940 election. Senator Barbour, Republican, New Jersey, termed it a bill to "slip another ace into the New Deal deck."

Friendship Bears Fruit

The good neighbor policy has suffered considerable criticism as a one-way policy. Those who oppose it have often said that we have been ill-rewarded in many cases by our greater effort to be neighborly to our neighbors to the south.

It is certainly true that in some cases North America cordiality has been abused and has failed to meet equal cordiality in return. But it must be remembered that the North American about-face in southern affairs is only about 10 years old, while the impressions which must be overcome date back a half-century.

Colombia, however, has reciprocated. President Santos, realizing that the security of all South America depends on the safety of the Panama canal, has given assurance that "no one will be permitted to menace the security of the canal from Colombian soil." Colombia, from whose territory the Canal Zone was detached, certainly has as much reason as anybody to be sore about it. But the declaration of President Santos is good evidence that his country is willing to "forgive and forget."

More and more clearly it is coming home to all the American nations that we are all in the same boat, and that neighborly consideration and mutual helpfulness is the best thing for all.

SHORTHAND NOTES

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

ADVANCED BEGINNERS

[illegible] their teens [illegible] the feelings of importance [illegible] They want to dress as their elders [illegible] same social experiences their elders enjoy. Unfortunately [illegible] to have very often these days and the result is some sadly spoiled, disillusioned children.

A thirteen-year-old girl is not ready, for instance, for society in the commonly accepted meaning of the term. Girls of that age are not ready for late parties, for sophisticated plays and movies, for the present-day dances with their accompanying excitements, nor for the attentions of fledgling youths. This needs no argument. The situation is plain. And yet we see these unfortunate children aping their elders in these ways and losing the precious years of their growing time.

Any organism forced into growth is spoiled. It never has quite the beauty, the power, the health of the one that grows in its natural rhythm. Girls and the boys as well, who are allowed this forced growth, pay the penalty in ragged nerves, half-baked impressions, mistaken opinions and wrong ideas. They think that success in life depends upon popularity, their word for everything that brings them into the forefront of the noise and excitement of the superficial life they enjoy. They think that love is expressed in petting, that a good time is of first importance in life, and that a frantic running hither and thither, a blather of telephone calls and a racing of motors get them somewhere other than out. Before long they are worn out, disinterested and a problem for their teachers and parents.

The whole business is so unnecessary, and futile, and cruel that its existence seems incredible until one comes face to face with it. It is worst in our upper middle class families, the most intelligent families in the land. Just why, save that parents are kind and indulgent and unknowing, it would be hard to say.

It seems to me that children ought to understand that they are children, with certain rights and privileges, and that grown people are adult and have their own rights and privileges. A child of thirteen should be dressed suitably, in simple pretty clothes, with none of the accessory touches allowed her mother or older sister. She should be on a child's schedule of hours, with plenty of play in the open air, and an early bedtime. Her health, and her mental development as well, depend largely upon her healthy growth during these next few years. She should, if necessary, be protected against herself. And that goes for the boy, too, although he is usually a bit behind his sister in asking for social recognition.

This matter is in the hands of the parents, the mothers first. These thirteen-year-olds are still children and they still look to their mothers for leadership and understanding. It is difficult when other children are allowed the prerogatives of their elders but right is right and it is certainly right to preserve a child's childhood for him when he is unable to do so for himself. Nothing can make it up once it has been lost. And it is so easy to protect at the beginning.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of the Monroe News-Star, Postoffice Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y., enclosing a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope for reply.

An Ounce Of Prevention

The [illegible] the cost. The [illegible] parents [illegible] about which little real thinking has been done. The program [illegible] for a large immediate expenditure from the federal treasury. It proposes a gradual increase so that by the end of ten years the federal, state and local governments together will be spending up to $850,000,000 from their various funds for the prevention and treatment of disease.

And if that sum seems a staggering one it would be well to remember that every dollar spent for health care is worth ten in the saving of life, the returning of a worker to his job, and in stopping the spread of disease. The blunderbuss of illness easily levies the most useless tax we bear. It is cheaper to keep a mother from dying in child-birth, or a father from dying of tuberculosis than it is to maintain orphan asylums.

Another objection is that it would put the government (which one of our governments is never specified by the critics) into medicine. Everyone who knows the situation realizes that the state, federal and local governments are already up to their ears in the business of medical care and the plan proposed is merely an extension of the services they already provide, with increased safeguards for the efficiency and proper supervision of them by the medical profession in every hamlet where it may operate.

The federal government already does extensive treatment and research work on pellagra, malaria, syphilis, gonorrhea, hookworm, pneumonia, bubonic plague, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and numerous other diseases through the public health service. The children's bureau, the veterans' bureau, the department of the interior, the department of agriculture and other agencies are carrying on similar functions.

The state governments operate hospitals and hire physicians for the care of the medically indigent and the mentally ill. City and county hospitals do the same. Government aid for medical care is nothing new and sooner or later the realization must come that its extension is vital to the happiness of the American people—not just those wealthy enough to afford good medical care or those who receive it through charity.

Health security is not enough today. We must have it, but we also must have a fuller measure of health opportunity. We need to build in America a race of people more physically

5. The life expectancy at birth in Holland, Switzerland and New Zealand is slightly better than that of the United States which, however, is better than all other countries. Most of our northern states have records even better than those of Holland, Switzerland and New Zealand. Since life expectancy among the colored people is less than that among the white, their longevity presents a special problem.

But M. Noel, a wine connoisseur of renown who sat on the opposite side of the table, came to the rescue. Those who profess to sniff a good wine from the bad, declares he, are professing bunk. The only judge of a fine vintage is the palate and even the most uneducated palate knows the difference in quality.

Women, according to him, are better wine judges than men, for their taste [illegible] are delicate and therefore more cultivated.

'Jeeter Lester' Supports all Club

The most famous of the Jeeter Lesters [illegible] the imperishable "Tobacco Road" is back in his role after a long recess.

The best known Jeeter, of course, is James Barton, the hoofer who spent five years in the Georgia cracker's turnip patch before he quit temporarily.

Barton wasn't eager to return to his tattered role in "Tobacco Road." He was pretty tired of the monotonous life of a stage sharecropper. For his own diversion, he had bought himself a baseball team on Long Island and it had turned out to be an expensive hobby. Although his Babylon Orioles are able tough in the diamond, they are not attracting enough box office receipts.

So Barton is making up the deficit. The pay he takes out of "Tobacco Road," he puts back into his costly nine.

There isn't a chance that his source of livelihood will peter out, "Tobacco Road" will be here forever.

SOY BEAN GOOD FOOD FOR POOR

Declared One Of Greatest Protections Against Unbalanced Diet

BERKELEY, Calif., July 27.—(AP)—Nutrition experts at the Pacific science congress today described the soy bean as one of the greatest potential protectors of the poor against the hazards of unbalanced diets and vitamin deficiency.

Dr. A. A. Horvath of the University of Delaware, asserted processed whole soya flour "should today be placed at the head of the list of protective foods of high nutritional value, available to the masses of people at low cost."

He said the soy bean contained 40 per cent of high grade protein, 20 per cent oil, two to three per cent of phosphate substances, a liberal supply of calcium, iron, copper and vitamins B-1, B-2 and K.

Sybil Woodruff, Mabel McMasters and Helen Klass of the University of Illinois reported that while the bean at present had little to attract the American palate several hundred new types and varieties were being tested at the university and 18 of them seemed to offer promise of public acceptance as food.

Dr. R. A. Guy of Brookline, Mass. said people in north China who ate bread made of soy beans and maize or millet were taller, heavier and more vigorous than their rice-eating neighbors of a higher economic level. He said the rice eaters were "socially prejudiced" against the soy bean.

Betty M. Watts of the University of California, told how a soy bean flour extract could be made to take the place of beaten egg whites in numerous recipes and how various forms of the product could be used in preparing salad dressings.

STREET SHOWER WILL BE GIVEN HERE ON FRIDAY

Plans were complete Thursday for the celebration of Joseph Lee day on the playgrounds of Monroe, morning and afternoon, Friday.

Morning programs will start at 9 a.m., at both Barkdull Faulk and Lida Benton playgrounds, and there will be an afternoon program at both places.

Firemen will aid in various ways in making the programs a success and the finale of the entire day will be a "street shower," the only one to be given this summer, on the Gordon avenue side of the Barkdull Faulk campus at 5 p.m. The firemen will have charge of the "shower."

Featured on the day's programs will be two addresses. One will be by H. Flood Madison, Jr., at Barkdull Faulk playground, while the other will be by A. B. Clarkson at Lida Benton playground.

Ball games, story-telling, band concerts, exhibitions of handcraft will comprise the program.

CENSUS-TAKER TO STICK CHIN OUT

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—The census-taker, who sometimes has trouble finding out women's ages, stuck his chin out today by framing additional questions about how many times women have been married, age when married, and how many children they have had.

It's concern about America's declining birth rate that inspires the new questions, officials hastened to explain.

The disclosure was made in advance of a tryout of the 1940 census questions to begin August 15 in St. Joseph and Marshall counties, Indiana.

To make it a little easier, however, the census bureau stipulated that the "how many times married" question would be used only as a "sample" basis—being asked of every tenth family in the Indiana test, and every 25th family in the national enumeration next spring.

The census bureau started checking on the birth rate in 1915, when there were 25.1 births for every 1,000 population.

This ratio dropped every year until it hit 16.7 in 1936. It went up to 17.0 in 1937 and to 17.9 in 1938, but the permanency of this later trend is in doubt.

RED CROSS TO LAUNCH COURSE

Parish Chapter To Give Life Saving Instruction At Pool

The Ouachita Parish chapter of the American Red Cross will launch its annual life saving instructor's course at the R. D. Swayze natatorium Tuesday, August 1, at 7 p.m. The first 15 hours of the course which consists of preliminary training in water safety will be in charge of Jack Blanks, Russell Harding and George Bubb. Oliver Allen, of the American National Red Cross life saving staff, will be in Monroe August 14 to give the remaining 15 hours required which will consist of teacher training.

All candidates enrolling for the instructor's course must have reached the age of 19 and hold a current senior life saving certificate or have previously completed the examiner or instructor training.

Inasmuch as this will be the only instructor's course held in this vicinity this summer or fall, all those desiring to enter the course are asked to get in touch with the local Red Cross chapter or with Jack Blanks or Russell Harding at the local natatorium.

Candidates are asked to make their reservations for enrollment early as a large attendance is expected.

HIDDEN MONEY TAKEN

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 27.—(AP)—A Columbia man, afraid he would lose the $46 his daughter gave him to pay for a sewer connection, buried it under the house in a small jar. While he was away, a laborer dug a ditch for the sewer pipe right through the spot where the money was hidden. The owner complained, and the ditcher was held for circuit court on a larceny charge. He said he had not seen the money.

Several charming social courtesies were extended including a dancing party in a natural cave recently converted into a night club.

Miss Rhymes, Miss Parnell and Miss Gaither formed a party motoring to Washington, D. C., where they were guests of the senator from Arkansas at a session of congress and other places of interest in Washington. They also motored to West Point and New York City where they attended the world's fair.

Mrs. Robert L. Kellogg and daughter, Rhoda, and Mrs. O. M. Grisham and granddaughter, June Lewis, have returned from a week's visit at the Roosevelt hotel in New Orleans and in Baton Rouge where they were the guests of Mrs. Grisham's sister, Mrs. C. H. Singletary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett, Mrs. Robert Stewart and son and Miss Florence Jenkins of Meridian, Miss., were in the city the first of the week to attend the funeral services for Mr. L. B. Ferguson. Mr. and Mrs. John Manden, Sr., of Homer, La., were also in attendance.

Mrs. John J. Potts and Mrs. Daniel McCranie have returned from a motor trip to Austin and Dallas, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hathaway announce the arrival of a son, Thomas James, at St. Francis sanitarium, July 21. Mrs. Hathaway will be remembered as Miss Edith Nell Haynes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Evans and daughter, Betty, left Friday for a three-week visit with friends in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Calif. They will also attend the exposition.

Miss Alice Isaacson is a patient in St. Francis sanitarium where she is recovering from an appendectomy. Friends will be permitted to call within a few days.

Misses Armandine and Irene Quinn Renaud, accompanied by Miss Joann Guerriero and Louis Guerriero, motored to New York City, where they will spend the balance of the summer. Misses Renaud will attend the convention of the Dancing Masters of America and take a course in dancing under celebrated instructors. They were joined in Bristol, Va., by Misses Veronica and Maryann Wilds, who will occupy an apartment with them while in New York.

Friends will regret to learn that Mrs. Harry Oliver is suffering from an attack of malarial fever at her home on Island drive.

Mrs. G. P. Stubbs will leave on Monday for Mexico City where she will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Chumney and Mr. Chumney for a month or more.

Mrs. Henry Guerriero's compliment to Mrs. Albin Lassiter's house guests, Miss Frances Norton and Miss Claire Nell Gleason of Shreveport, was an informal luncheon party at the Virginia hotel on Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Cook will spend the week-end on the gulf coast where they will be joined by their son, Duncan, Jr., who has been attending the Gulf Coast Military academy summer camp. Mrs. Cook and son will visit relatives in Baton Rouge before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Faulk, Mrs. L. W. Mobley, Mrs. F. C. Shotwell and Mrs. Frank Lynn returned home the first of the week from a three week's motor trip in the west. They enjoyed a visit in Seattle and then motored along the famous Columbia river drive to San Francisco where they attended the World's Fair. Their trip was one of exceptional charm from a scenic standpoint.

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

Chapter 36

Balloon Dance

"WHY did he throw in the key to Katherine?" Lou Orpington asked humbly.

"So that someone would argue as you did—that she had no alibi. He knew his trussing would not hold her indefinitely; if she should get free so much the better. Suspicion directed toward others was directed away from him."

"But how did he get away?" demanded Mrs. Flower.

"Over the railing—he was an athlete. He probably slid down a pillar to avoid the sound of a drop. It was quicker than either stairway—he would land in front of the stage; and before even Snaw could reach the library Barney was backstage calling to Elizabeth and sweating at the fuse box."

"And the girl he killed — who was she?" Mary Shaw looked as if she had been seeing ghosts. She was sitting very close to her husband on the sofa. "And why did she pick this particular time to come here?"

"She was Barney's sister. I can't prove it now, but I'll be able to. They're side by side now—and the resemblance is clear. She came here, now of all times, because Barney had written that he was going to be married and that she must not write to him or see him any more. That's a fact. They found another typewritten letter at the sanitarium and [illegible] me back this morning.

"I think she was very humble about her infirmity and willing at all costs to shield him from the stigma. But he was her brother—and she wanted to see him once more."

[illegible]

[illegible] Anne had [illegible] because she knew about the [illegible]

[illegible] seemed [illegible] accepted.

[illegible] sham.

Not A Sham

"BUT it was not a sham, as Doc Moore demonstrated. And Barney did not seize on the alibi of the other stone, which convinced me against my will that he was innocent."

"Why didn't he?" I asked.

"One of a number of reasons. First, he may not have realized at once that he had fallen on the stone and bruised his head. Second, he knew that such a throw would have been practically impossible to execute, even for a skilled pitcher. Third, he was in the dark when Charlie found him—and sooner or later that fact would be remembered—was remembered."

"I knew that, too!" I cried. "I heard the light switch click when he went into the room."

"But if the faint wasn't a sham, what was it?" Charlie demanded.

"Incipient epilepsy, I'm afraid Doc says it's possible. It had happened before——"

"Say, I ought to know that!" exclaimed Shaw with bulging eyes. "He had a rep at West Point for falling out of more P-rades than the rest of the corps put together. We used to ride him about it and ask for his formula."

"That faint, and the bruise on his head from the stone, were pure luck, from his viewpoint. And he must have felt that fate was helping him. Otherwise he'd never have made such a desperate, foolhardy move as the second attack on Anne."

"Attack on Anne!" I said incredulously. "Why, I was between him and the bed the whole time ——"

"And lucky to be here to tell it," Adam said grimly. His eyes rested on mine, he spoke gently. "The match, child, the match. He kicked that lampplug out on purpose. I think he was going to throw the lighted match—he was in the safest spot, on the floor near the door. I stepped on his hand, match and all. I think at first he believed it was an accident."

He looked around at our puzzled faces.

"You all know, but you've forgotten, that normally inert substances burn violently in oxygen. She was in an oxygen tent—a tent made of oiled silk, with windows that are not glass but a cellulose composition—a tent that enclosed pure oxygen."

The faces around me reflected my horror. But Shaw, who had not been there, had not seen that small, helpless figure, brought us back to the heart of the puzzle.

"But you haven't told us how he shot her," he reminded Adam stubbornly. "Maybe you know what you're talking about — maybe you've learned something you didn't tell the rest of us. If not, I say it can't be done."

"You all had the same chance I did," Adam observed amiably. "I don't claim to be very bright. I missed a lot. He was not as well covered as he thought he was.

"You saw him, Shaw, in the afternoon when he fired Elizabeth's [illegible] in the Service Club. He had taken it from her car a few minutes before during the confusion at the [illegible]

Shaw nodded, evidently at a [illegible]

[illegible]

And Elizabeth's supposed to be safe [illegible] at home with Anne. I [illegible] parenthetically.

He paused.

"Did anyone notice Barney and Anne come in? They were not on the floor when the dance started."

No one spoke.

"Did anyone see her or speak to her while they were dancing?"

Several people spoke at once.

"She was dead drunk ——"

"He was half carrying her——"

"She was singing that 'Tweet-tweet' song — couldn't miss it—she has no ear."

Adam looked at me. "Did you see a scrap of leaf mold on the sole of her shoe?"

I nodded.

"Did you hear them singing together on the porch?"

I nodded again, and the flesh on the back of my neck began to crawl!

SURPLUS PRODUCTS OF FARM GIVEN

FERRIDAY, La., July 27.—(Special)—Surpus commodities were distributed to 1,412 residents of Concordia parish during the past month, according to A. R. Johnson, state welfare commissioner.

Mr. Johnson said a fair estimate of the value of the commodities would be $2,402.25 and that in addition to the help given needy people, farmers were also benefitted by the removal of surplus agricultural products from the market.

M. L. LANGFORD RITES ARE HELD

Services Conducted At First Methodist Church Thursday

A large attendance was present at the First Methodist church Thursday at 9 a.m., when the funeral of Martin Lorenzo Langford, 71, was held. The pastor, Rev. W. C. Scott, officiated. After the service the funeral cortege proceeded to Ruston, where interment took place.

Pallbearers were W. B. Inabnet, Mark Wilenzick, V. S. Garnett, Dwight Petts, Sid Moore, Henry C. Ray, Jr., J. S. Drew and Albert Trotter.

Mr. Langford was well known and highly regarded by a wide circle of friends. He was the son and grandson of Methodist ministers of note and he himself was active in the First Methodist church here, where he had been a member for many years.

He leaves seven children as follows: Misses Frances and Elizabeth Langford, Mrs. C. B. Taylor, all of West Monroe; Mrs. N. J. Kendrick, Homer; Mrs. Mabel Cade, Jackson, and Mrs. H. H. Wooten, Washington, D. C., and L. L. Langford. Also he leaves a brother, Ralf Langford, Memphis, Tenn., and a sister, Mrs. [illegible] Sigler, [illegible].

LONG-LOST BOY IS RECOVERING RAPIDLY

BANGOR, Me., July 27.—(AP)—Plucky Donn Fendler, 12, lying in a hospital room opposite his father, regained today the strength he expended in an eight-day struggle to find his way out of the dense, trackless wilderness east of mile-high Mount Katahdin in northern Maine.

The father, Donald Fendler, Rye, N. Y., was reported recuperating swiftly from an eye injury suffered while searching for the son he lost near Katahdin's barren summit, July 17.

Donn's days as a patient also were numbered. A hospital attendant said the wiry lad's condition was "just fine," and predicted the boy could be released "in two or three days."

$695,104,483 SPENT IN FARM ASSISTANCE

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—The agricultural adustment administration reported today it spent the record sum of $695,104,483 in carrying out farm aid and crop control programs during the year which ended June 30.

Expenditures in the current fiscal year are expected to exceed this amount by a considerable margin. Congress appropriated $783,000,000 to be distributed among farmers cooperating with production and marketing programs.

Administrative expenditures, exclusive of local farmer committees, were $19,631,823. The benefit payments included: cotton adjustment payments for the 1938 crop, $121,663,661; soil conservation, $417,300,230; sugar $61,294,667, and 1938 parity payments, $22,826,045.

Texas led all states with payments of $95,661,700.

WOODMEN ATTAIN TWILIGHT PLAYOFF

The Woodmen of the World fought their way into the Twilight softball league's championship series here yesterday behind the one-hit pitching of Rogers, who blanked the Knights of Columbus, 3 to 0, in a play-off game to decide the fourth team in the title games.

The title series gets under way today with United Gas meeting the Sunshine Cleaners on the Gassers diamond, and the Independents facing the Woodmen on the Plum street lot.

The Woodmen and Knights of Columbus finished the regular schedule in a tie for fourth place in the league standings and the game yesterday was necessary to decide the fourth place team as the top four teams go into the championship games.

Seven-Up Bottlers vs. Francis Beauty School, Barkdull Faulk.

The Seven-Up Bottlers and Cooperative Dairy further strengthened their chances of winning places in the City softball league championship series yesterday as the Bottlers beat Hart's Candy Kids, 4 to 2, and the Co-ops trounced United Electric, 9 to 4.

Seven-Up got the best of a pitchers' duel between Riggin, of the Bottlers, who allowed only four hits, and Anzalone, of the Kids, who pitched five-hit ball. Stron led the victors' attack with a double and a single.

The Milkmen got to Alpha for ten hits, one a home run by Warren Halley, to wallop United Electric. The losers got nine hits off O'Conner.

Younse Service matched Crawford's Service in hits, getting eleven safeties each, but the Crawford aggregation won, 12 to 6. Van hit a homer for the winners. The batteries: Hayes and Magnani, Crawford, C. Williams and McMullen, Younse.

Francis Beauty School went on a 15-hit batting spree to whip Guarantee Shoes, 13 to 11, in a free-hitting affair. The losers hit safely 12 times. The batteries: Moore, Cohen and Ussery, Beauticians; B. Bubb and Wilkins, Guarantee.

Hunt and Whitaker defeated Thom McAn, 9 to 7, to lessen the Shoe Salesmen's chances to appear in the play-off. The batteries: Leach and Roberts, Hunt and Whitaker; Gleason and Travis, Thom McAn.

City Employs Bill Ruple To Supervise Recreation Nines

[illegible]

Scheduled games for the first half have been played, although a protested game will be played Thursday. The first half play-offs will begin Friday with the four top teams in each of the two leagues meeting in the eliminations. The second half will run until August 20, when the city championships will be decided under the lights at Casino park.

The city recreation department is under the direction of Miss Lucile Godwin and the city recreation board, of which A. B. Clarkson is president and Mrs. Charles McConnell is secretary. The recreation baseball league has been formed each summer for several years as a part of the regular playground program of the recreation department. Boys from Monroe and West Monroe play on the league teams, the only requirement being that of age.

There are two leagues within the recreation league, a senior league, of which all players with the exception of one on each team must be under 17 years of age, and a junior league, which is organized for boys under 16 years. Each team is allowed to have 15 players. The six teams in the junior league are backed by various business houses of Monroe.

This is the first year that the teams in the senior circuit have been backed by service organizations here. The six senior teams and their sponsors are, Cubs, Lions club; Pirates, Rotary club; Bears, Y Men's club; Eagles, Kiwanis; Bees, American Legion, and Pelicans, L. T. I. board.

Teams in the senior league play every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9 a.m. Diamonds on the Missouri Pacific property at Plum street, and at Lida Benton, Barkdull Faulk and L. T. I. are used for the games. The junior teams play every Tuesday and Thursday at the same places.

The recreation department also conducts playground activities for both boys and girls at the same playgrounds every day of the week, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. A city softball team also is under the supervision of the department.

SHERROUSE TEAM WINS

The Sherrouse Juniors walloped the Barkdull Faulk aggregation, 13 to 3, yesterday in a game featured by a home run by Kalil. The batteries: Kalil and Shepard, Sherrouse; Polk and Bernelle, Barkdull Faulk.

The Sherrouse Midgets defeated Lida Benton's Midgets, 12 to 10. The batteries: Wetzey and Myrick, Sherrouse; Griffin and White, Lida Benton.

But the Taftmen struck back with three more runs in their half of the fourth. Hoffman walked and Bob Hill bunted safely. Hoffman scored on Johnny Conway's single that sent Hill to second. Hill scored when Pintarell let Taft's grounder get through him at shortstop and Conway scored on Morrel Jones' single.

Then Joe Tucker, first batter up for Clarksdale in the fifth, blasted one of Hoffman's pitches against the fence immediately under the scoreboard, the ball bounded away from Hill and Hargrove, both of whom made a run for it, and Tucker stretched the hit into a circuit blow to boost the Red Hose to three runs.

There was no more scoring until the seventh when the visitors tallied again. Tucker got a fluke hit when Hoffman fell down before he could field the ball. Brannon walked and a single by Andy Gilbert scored Tucker.

Again the locals grouped three runs, however, in their half of the seventh. Hackney singled and went to third on "Red" Pruitt's two-bagger. Taylor singled, scoring Hackney and Pruitt, and went on to second on a play for Hackney at the plate. Krole then threw wild to second in an attempt to catch Taylor off the bag, and Taylor went to third. A passed ball scored Taylor with the final Monroe tally.

Clarksdale wound up the scoring with three runs in the eighth. Chiado singled and went to second on Krole's single. Dunkle singled into right field scoring Chiado, but Taft booted the ball, and Dunkle went on to second while Krole held third. A sacrifice fly by Pintarell scored Krole, and

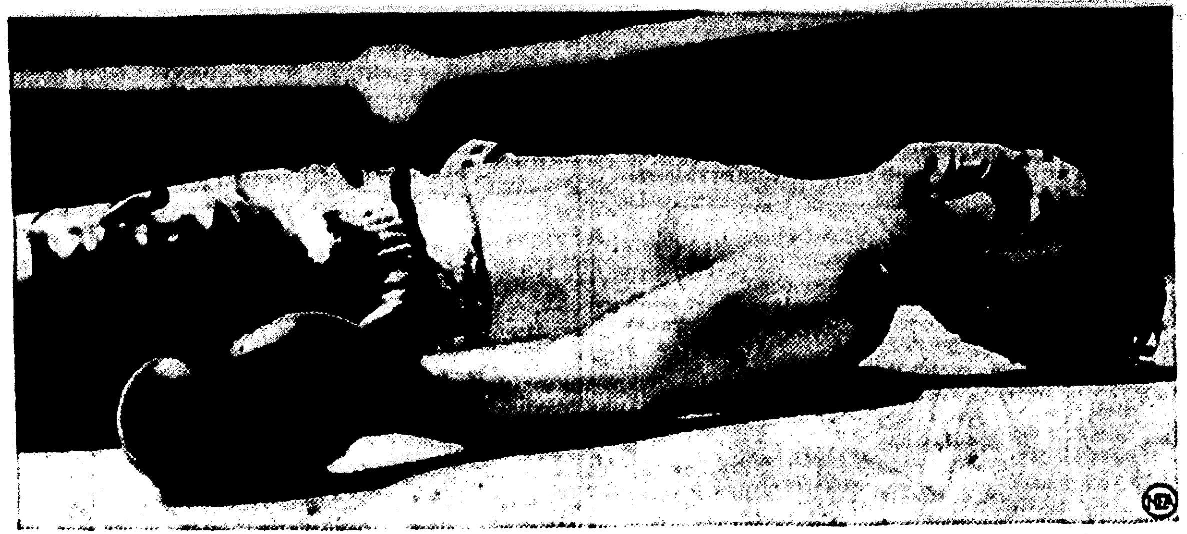
IRISH THRUSH LISTENS TO BIRDIES SING



Jack Doyle is an Irish heavyweight but lives up to all the fine old traditions of British prize ring. Here is the latest horizontal view of tenor belted out in two minutes and 24 seconds by Eddie Phillips at White City stadium, London. No less than 90,000 persons paid to see thrush sleep in this position. Len Harvey won British light-heavy leadership from Jock McAvoy on same program.

$10,000 LEGS TO BE RISKED IN MAT PROGRAM

Indian And Four Other Grapplers Will Stage Wrestling Royal Tonight

When Yaqui Joe, noted Indian matman from Sonora, Mexico, enters the ring in Promoter Gus Kallio's arena, 310 Walnut street, tonight for a wrestling royal with four other grapplers he will be risking a pair of extremely valuable legs, but if the legs are injured he will collect plenty, for they are insured for $10,000.

The Indian is the only newcomer in the group that will appear here this week and for that reason the fans will watch him with especial interest, but they will also have their eyes on another man who has appeared here only once and who made a fine impression and on three other rugged grapplers who have displayed their wares here a number of times to the general satisfaction of the wrestling faithful.

"Dutch" [illegible] the Flying Dutchman, is ready to give another hair-raising exhibition, and Bob "Buck" Davidson, the "Shadow," and "Sailor" Watkins are sure to provide [illegible] of excitement.

Kallio likes to stage his wrestling programs with a wrestling royal as in this way none of the [illegible] know who their opponents will be in the semi-final and main events. Thus there is no possible [illegible] things over.

Kallio believes that many persons have an exaggerated idea of the so-called "fixing" of wrestling matches. He [illegible] practically all wrestlers [illegible] and that they are [illegible] from or giving anything to their opponents. He asserted he had never asked an opponent to lose to him during his long career as a wrestler and said he did not propose to lose to anyone if he could help it. This talk was given to the reporter for his information and not for publication, but it is passed on to the fans for whatever it may be worth.

Under the wrestling royal plan, it is possible that Yaqui Joe may be eliminated in the mix-up and if he is he will not appear in either of the other events, but it is believed altogether likely that the wrestlers who have been here before will gang up on one of the "meanies" who have been appearing here and put him out of competition as soon as possible. It is known that there is not affection lost anywhere among the "Shadow," Davidson and Watkins.

Kallio expects to return to the mat [illegible] the next couple of weeks as he is anxious to get back into the ring again. It has not yet been decided whether he will first meet several local grapplers on a single night for a warm-up or will tangle with one of the professional matmen who have been appearing here.

Fans who attend the wrestling program tonight are assured they will be comfortable as four fans send a [illegible] sweeping across the seats and windows at both the front and back of the building will be open.

Berns [illegible] state athletic commissioner, will referee. The program will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

ELDERLY GOLFER TAKES COMMAND

BALTIMORE, July 27.—(AP)—The younger generation, which has been doing some pretty loud crowing over its accomplishments in the 15th national public links golf championship, took a back seat Wednesday as George Bradley, 54-year-old Philadelphian who holds his city and state public links titles, led the way into the round of 16 at the Mount Pleasant park course.

Oldest man in the field and with experience enough not to take the game too seriously, Bradley proved he could win matches the hard way and the easy way. He started off Wednesday morning by going 21 holes, the longest engagement of the day's two rounds, to edge out Harry Kaufman of Lincoln, Neb., 1 up, and then came back in the afternoon to dispose of Neil Whitney of Los Angeles by 3 and 2.

While the "old man" was plodding his placid way into the third round, all sorts of calamities and disasters were befalling his younger colleagues. Three of the four who had tied for the qualifying medal were consigned to the list of also-rans. Only Art Armstrong, the Hawaiian shipping clerk, kept his game up to its earlier standards and one other pre-tournament favorite, Don Erickson, of Los Angeles, was put out of the running.

"Bullela! Bullela! Kill! Kill!" High up in the hills, hidden in the tangle of the tropic forest, the death-drums boomed hollowly, horribly. Smoke-puffs — four, then one — four, then one — the blood-signal of the Bulega tribe — rose against the hot sky above the tree-tops. . . . The white settlers were helpless, facing horror unspeakable, annihilation — unless Tarzan, the Ape-Man, could come to their aid. But did he even know of their plight? . . . RUSTON JUNIORS BEAT COUSHATTA

Win By Score Of 14 To 1; Teams Engage In Double Header In Ruston Today

COUSHATTA, La., July 27.—(Special)—With Charles Ruel Colvin pitching three-hit ball, the Ruston American Legion Juniors, fifth district champions, coasted to an easy 14 to 1 victory here Wednesday over Coushatta, fourth district champions.

Coushatta will play Ruston in a double header at Ruston Thursday to determine the championship of the two districts. The first game starts at 3:15 p. m., to be followed immediately by the second. They will be played at Fraser field.

Dean McBride, Ruston's hitting star in Wednesday's game, will pitch the first game Thursday, with Junior Collins being held in reserve for the nightcap.

Chet Deverloy, state American Legion junior baseball chairman, witnessed the game here and will be in Ruston Thursday for the double header.

The winner of the Coushatta-Ruston series will play Opelousas, champion of the seventh and eighth districts, to determine the north Louisiana championship. The north Louisiana champions will later play the south Louisiana champions for the championship of the state.

INDIANS WHIP A'S AGAIN

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—(AP)—Breezing along, the Cleveland Indians made it two straight over the Athletics Wednesday. With Al Milnar holding the Mackmen to eight hits, the Indians got to Nelson Potter and Lynn Nelson for 17 and triumphed 9 to 3.

UPSETS STRIKE AT SEABRIGHT

Most Of Favorites, Including Bobby Riggs, Eliminated From Tourney

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 27.—(AP)—The anticipated storm of upsets which passed over th Seabright Singles tournament in the preliminary matches struck with gale force Wednesday in the third round and washed out most of the favorites, including Bobby Riggs, the nation's ranking tennis amateur.

Riggs and Elwood T. Cooke, diminutive Portland, Ore., stylist who lost the Wimbledon championship to Riggs earlier this summer, were the chief casualties, but two other seeded singles performers—Gardnar Mulloy, rated sixth in the men's draw, and Virginia Woldenden, was was fourth in the women's seedings—fell by the wayside.

Riggs met his master in Frank Guernsey, Jr., of Orlando, Fla., National Intercollegiate champion from Rice institute, losing 7-5, 6-4. The straight-set defeat ended Riggs hopes of winning the 52-year-old tournament for a third straight year and retiring the silver Seabright bowl.

Cooke never had a chance against his conqueror, 17-year-old Jack Kramer of Montebello, Calif. The scores were 6-3, 6-4.

Donald McNeill of Oklahoma City, Okla., who won the French hard court title in the spring, eliminated Mulloy, 24-year-old Coral Gables, Fla., lawyer, by 7-5, 7-5.

Joining Guernsey, Kramer and McNeill in the quarter-final round were three seeded players, Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, Frankie Parker and Wayne Sabin, along with Gilbert A. Hunt and formed National champion John Hope Doeg.

Besidese Riggs, two other former Wimbledon champions bowed out, Sidney B. Wood, Jr., losing to Hunt, 7-5, 7-5, and Australian Jack Crawford falling before Grant, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Parer accounted for Francis X. Shields, former Davis Cup player, 6-2, 6-2, while Sabin eliminated Ladislav Hecht, erstwhile Czecho-Slovakian internationalist, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3. Doeg scored a 7-5, 6-4 victory over Martin Buxby, of Miami, Fla.

While Miss Wolfenden was being expunged 6-1, 2-6, 8-6, by Helen Bernard of New York, three other favorites moved into the semi-final bracket.

First ice skates were made by tying the bones of animals to the bottoms of the feet.

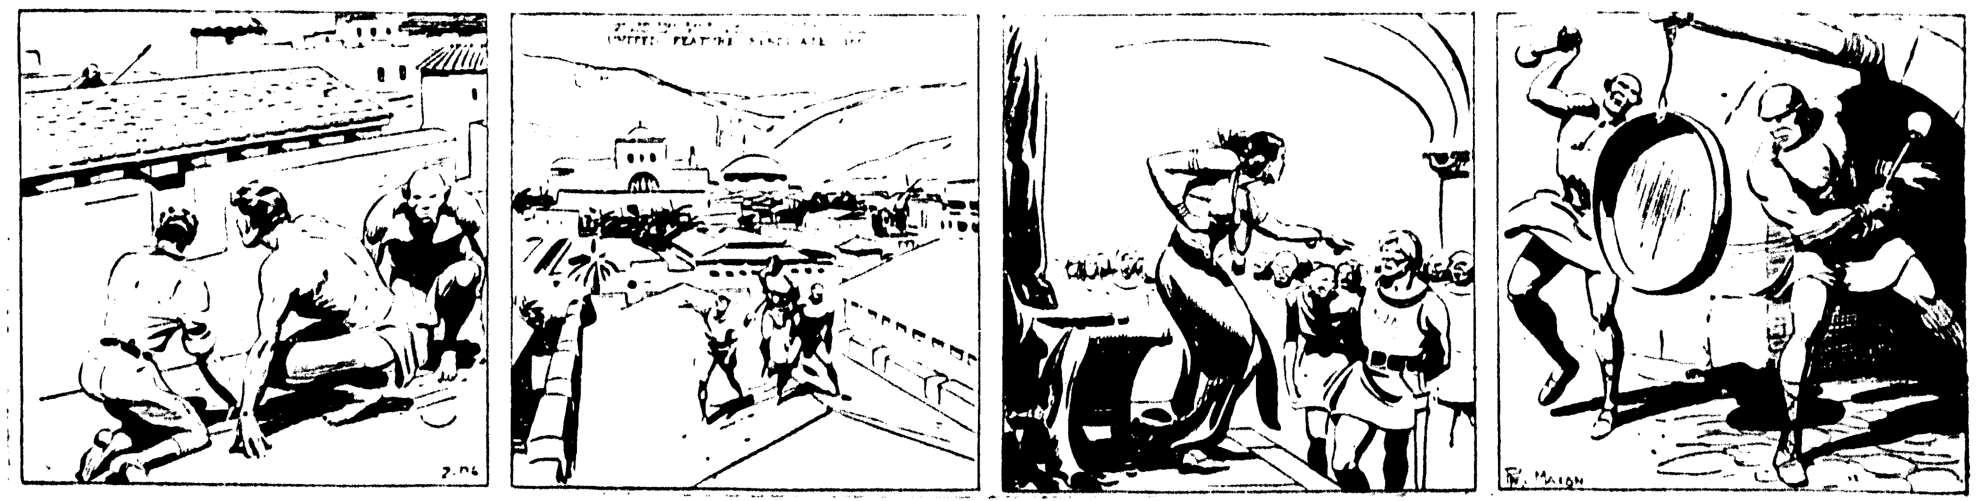
TARZAN AND THE FIRES OF TOHR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



UNITED FEATURE SYNDICATE

R. Maxon

On the next roof the fugitives dropped down behind a coping. Through a chink in the wall they watched. They saw a Tohrian's head rise for a moment above the first roof, then disappear. "When he didn't see us, he probably figured we dropped to the street," said Perry.

"We can make our way across the housetops toward the paddocks," Kailuk suggested, "without being visible from the street." "But we can be seen from the palace. If anybody happens to look out one of the windows, we're right in his eyes." O'Rourke groaned. . . .

. . . In the palace, however, all eyes were turned fearsomely upon the queen. Ahtea was berating everyone about her, so furious was she at the miscarriage of her plans for the public whipping of Tarzan and his friends. Mungo promised to recapture the fugitives quickly.

"You are all children, you and your guards," Ahtea stormed, "to allow them to escape. They are three; you are numbered in hundreds. I trust you no longer. My hunting lions will track them down. Go! Warn the people from the streets! Sound the gong! Loose the lions!"

Sugar

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—World sugar futures trade was featured by producer selling and switching from September to more distant deliveries today. Mid-afternoon prices were unchanged to 1-2 points off under the influence of a hesitant tone in the raw market and lack of Washington developments on Cuban duty revisions.

Duty free raws were available at 2.90 cents while Cubas were offered at 2.05 cents F. O. B. Refined held at 4.30 to 4.40 cents.

Futures No. 3 closed unchanged to 1 lower. Sales 4,950 tons.

WEDDING CAKE GETS 50-50 CUT

Starting married life off on a 50-50 basis, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Griffis join hands to cut the first slice of their wedding cake. The bride is the former Whitney Bourne, prominent New York socialite and screen actress. The couple are pictured at the Locust Valley, L. I., home of her family, during a luncheon following their surprise wedding.

BRAIN DEPENDS UPON CLIMATE

Height And Many Other Aspects Of Life Also Affected

BERKELEY, Calif., July 27.—(AP)—The climate is a determining factor in your ability to think, your height and almost every aspect of your existence, Dr. Clarence A. Mills of the University of Cincinnati said here today.

Under his theory of "The climatic dominance over man in all his activities" the weather becomes more important in nutrition than diet itself.

The Cincinnati medical professor who has spent years studying the subject told the Pacific Science congress his concept was based on findings that the ease with which the body loses its heat influences all vital bodily functions.

Dr. Mills explained that the body is only 20 to 25 per cent efficient as a combustion machine. Consequently three-fourths of its combustion energy must be dissipated as waste heat.

High outside temperatures prevent the ready escape of excess heat. The body must then lower its internal combustion or face death from overheating. The lowered combustion in turn, Dr. Mills said, means lowered vitality, a less dynamic existence, slower development and growth.

"This is a new conception of an outside force dominating the dynamics of human life on earth," he said. "Energy for every thought or action depends upon the body's ability to get rid of the waste heat that must be generated in such activity."

He found the ease with which the body loses heat particularly dominant in the growth rate, sexual development, fertility, resistance to disease and the energy level.

Dr. Mills said man "is unable to utilize to advantage even the most perfect dietary when the heat generated in its use cannot be expelled freely. This basic dominance of ease of body heat loss has received far too little attention in nutritional and medical circles, for it colors almost every aspect of man's dynamic existence.

"Comparative studies on human development and growth rates in different regions have been rendered difficult in recent years by the world-wide racial improvement seen in all lands where statistics have been collected.

"For several decades stature has increased and puberty has come at earlier ages. This improvement seems to have been stimulated by the low temperatures that everywhere prevailed through the first and second thirds of the last century.

"With the severe and prolonged warmth of the last ten years a reversal of growth trend seems to have set in here in America, even though nutritional and dietary conditions have never before been better.

"In a study of college student stature and menarchial age now in progress, we are finding this reversal to be quite evident with the severe and prolonged unseasonal warmth that prevailed from 1929 to 1937. Temperatures are still above normal, but less so than in the years 1930-36."

are or may be opened to foreign commerce."

5. Treaties or internal legislation shall regulate import duties between the nations. Export duties shall not be higher than those on similar articles to other countries.

6. Citizens of each nation shall be exempt from transit duties and shall receive equal treatment in warehousing and other facilities.

7. Commercial companies of each nation can appear in the courts of the other, subject to regular laws.

8. Equal shipping privileges shall exist for vessels of both nations. Harbor, pilotage, quarantine and other duties shall be the same as for vessels of all other nations.

9. Coastwise trade is excepted, to be regulated by native law, but each party shall enjoy "most-favored-nation" treatment.

10. Citizens of each nation shall have the same protection as natives on patents, trademarks, etc.

WAY CLEARED FOR AMERICAN EMBARGO

(By Associated Press)

A major step in American foreign policy caused world-wide reactions today following Secretary Hull's notification to Japan that the 1911 treaty governing basic relations between the two powers would end in six months. With the approval of President Roosevelt, the secretary last night served notice on Japan terminating the treaty.

The sudden move, coming early in the third year of Japan's undeclared war on China and in the midst of British-Japanese difficulties in the far east, was interpreted in many quarters as clearing the way for an American embargo on shipment of war materials to Japan.

Taken by surprise, Tokyo officials said it was an unfriendly act because of its abruptness and that Japan "certainly will take retaliatory measures if there is discrimination by America after the six-month period."

The foreign office spokesman said that "if Washington intended merely to complete a new treaty" when this one has expired "the abrogation would not have been so sudden and would have been preceded by conversations."

Negotiated during the Taft administration, the treaty covered basic relations between the two nations, the rights of citizens of each to reside in the other nation, rights of trade, navigation and a clause pledging neither to impose discriminatory export or import duties on the other.

Only a few hours before the state department acted the senate foreign relations committee had deferred action on a resolution by Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, calling on the government to terminate the treaty.

Senator Vandenberg declared that he was "very glad" to find himself "in agreement with the state department" and from other Washington political leaders came words of approval.

Any legal obstacle to an embargo on raw materials shipments to Japan was thus removed, and congress when it meets next January may consider the embargo resolution which Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, recently introduced.

Japan has professed a desire for American friendship throughout the Chinese-Japanese warfare and particularly during recent difficulties with Britain from which emerged Britain's recognition of the "special requirements" of Japanese military forces in China.

Japanese newspapers gave top display to the news from Washington instead of the British-Japanese negotiations.

Responsible German quarters in Berlin were quick to attribute "a highly political motive" to the denunciation and speculation arose immediately over the possible economic and even military effects.

British-French hopes of soon bringing Soviet Russia into a mutual assistance agreement mounted as a new meeting of negotiators in Moscow was set for this evening.

General Joseph Edouard Doumenc, newly-appointed member of the superior war council, was designated to represent the French general staff in military talks planned as soon as pact negotiations have been concluded.

A British official declared today's conference in Moscow "might well be the decisive meeting" of protracted negotiations and British optimism coincided with a French foreign office statement that an agreement was expected today or tomorrow.

Spurred by public wrath, Scotland Yard directed a vast hunt for terrorists who caused one death and injuries to more than 20 persons yesterday while the house of commons was passing a drastic measure designed to combat the terrorist Irish Republican army.

The casualties were caused by bombs which exploded in two London railway station parcel rooms. Three explosions in Liverpool caused heavy damage but injured no one.

DR. WILHELM WOLF KILLED

VIENNA, July 27.—(AP)—Dr. Wilhelm Wolf, 42, last foreign minister of Austria before annexation by Germany, was killed today when his automobile was wrecked by a tire blowout. His chauffeur, who was driving Wolf from his home in Loosdorf to Vienna, also was killed.

HIT WITH HATCHET

E. C. Randall, negro, living at 3013 Polk street, was admitted to St. Francis sanitarium Wednesday night with a skull injury reported received when his wife hit him on the head. Randall said his wife hit him with the flat side of a hatchet after an argument. His condition was not serious and no charges had been made in the case.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Much Money Wasted In Seeking Relief

Almost Crippled At Times With Awful Pains In Back, Shoulders, Gly-Cas A Real Blessing To Mrs. Morgan.

"There are many highly recommended medicines on the market today, but not one I have tried can be compared with this herbal Gly-Cas," said Mrs. H. E. Morgan, 816 Florida street, Pine Bluff, Ark. "Nothing seemed to have any effect on my stubborn case and each day toxic impurities were collecting due to improper elimination which caused me much distress. The horrible back pains were almost more than I could stand at times for I was unable to walk and had to be helped up and down. Then such miserable stabbing pains settled in my neck, head, shoulders and arms until I was almost a complete cripple. I could not turn myself in bed and was rapidly growing worse. I got little enjoyment from eating as my food failed to digest properly. But in spite of the failure of other medicines, once I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to help me I was soon on the road to recovery."

MRS. H. E. MORGAN

"I had just wasted my time and money on the many remedies I had tried in the past," continued Mrs. Morgan. "It is almost unbelievable but I am getting proper elimination of waste impurities. Those miserable pains have all been relieved, I enjoy my meals without distress and feel fine. Little did I realize there was a medicine on the market as wonderful as Gly-Cas proved to be."

Gly-Cas is sold by Phoenix Drug company, 318 DeSiard street, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Summer time is play time...

C'mon, Enjoy Life with a cold bottle of JAX!

Today is your day. Live it. Work? Sure: but grab some fun, too. Step out. Have a good time. Enjoy your friends, and let JAX play, too! Here's a sparkling companion, smooth, dry, tangy JAX—beer at its liveliest, zippiest best—beer made as it should be made, naturally—mellowed slowly in ice-cold cellars—bottled when it's best for you to drink. Don't let the strain of job or business get you down. C'mon, Enjoy Life! Drink JAX, regularly.
